    ↳ favourite part being the Amber Fort and the City Palace in Jaipur! Mr Rawat was my ↳ driver and he was always punctual and I felt so safe as his driving skills were ↳ excellent unlike some of the other drivers on the road. All the guides at each ↳ location really brought the places to life and were all very knowledgeable, spoke ↳ excellent English and took great photos too!! My trip in March was just before ↳ lockdown and the guides were all instructed to wear face masks which they did. The ↳ hotels were all really good in particular the Jaypee Palace in Agra. There were

    "review": "TLDR:Highlights: Qutub Minar, Sikh temple, Agra Fort, Taj Mahal, ↳ Amber Fort, Panna Meena step well, countryside drive, safety, great guides and drivers.
    ↳ Lowlights: closed Lotus temple bc of poor timing, lunch on the roadFrom start to ↳ finish this tour was well organized with a fantastic driver (ask if Mr. Ram Singh is ↳ available) and knowledgeable, clear guides throughout. We wanted a few changes made ↳ here and there the driver and the guides were happy to do so. For example, the Lotus ↳ Temple is actually closed in Delhi at certain times (this was the only poor planning),
    ↳ and it was closed when we arrived. We asked to do something else instead and went to a ↳ Sikh temple which was amazing! I do wish Red Fort in Delhi was on the agenda, but ↳ friends of ours had said to avoid Old Delhi during the time we were there (riots).We ↳ felt safe and well taken care of during our journey with a comfortable, nice air ↳ conditioned car and plenty of water. The driver and guides really cared about our ↳ experience and helped us out if there was anything we needed. The tour guide in Agra
    ↳ was like a professional photographer and historian all in one, amazing! The guides ↳ were good about warning us about scams and other uncomfortable situations we, as ↳ tourists might find ourselves in.You should consider booking your own hotels as it can ↳ be more affordable. On our journey, there were a few times we needed to stop for lunch.
    ↳ The restaurants we were taken to in Delhi (can't remember the name) and Jaipur (The ↳ Grand Peacock) were great but the one on the road to Jaipur was pretty overpriced and ↳ not very good. Have an idea of your journey route and tell the driver where to take ↳ you to eat via Google Maps, Zomato, etc- they are on your time and can take you ↳ anywhere along the way! Lastly, Amit, our tour manager with the company, was super ↳ responsive both before the trip and during the trip. For the great price and value and ↳ an overall fantastic time,I would recommend this tour to anyone wanting a taste of all

    "review": "I did a lot of research before our trip and then highly customized ↳our trip according to what appealed to us the most. We love culture and history so our ↳trip focused mostly on that. We spent 7 nights/8 days in India, starting off with 2
    ↳nights in Delhi, 1 night in Agra, 2 nights in Jaipur and then ending the tour with ↳another 2 nights back in Delhi. Day 1: We did our own thing and started off the ↳morning with a quick tuk tuk ride to Lodhi Gardens (loads of photo ops here) which was ↳very close to the hotel we were staying at. The Claridges Hotel was a fabulous base to ↳stay in, lovely green part of the city. A lot of embassies in the area so very ↳upmarket, and safe! We then visited the India Gate (ladies please dress VERY modestly ↳here, no tight gym pants unless bum is covered...), took a tuk tuk to Connaught Place
    ↳which was unfortunately closed and then took an uber all the way out to the fabulous
    ↳Hindu Akshardham Temple. Loved the temple! So much to look at. No backpack type bags
    ↳allowed in the temple, and no photos either. There are lockers for your bags. Day 2:
    ↳We were collected promptly at 8am and spent a good few hours exploring Delhi. Just ↳driving around the city is an experience itself! Watching every day people going about ↳their day, animals and people all over the place, no obvious traffic rules or traffic ↳lights... We visited the largest Sikh temple in Delhi - Gurudwara Bangla Sahib, a ↳beautiful Muslim temple - Fatehpuri Masjid, explored Chandni Chowk on a rickshaw, ↳spent some time at the stepwells (small but absolutely beautiful) and managed to see ↳Humayans Tomb which was just stunning! Everything is quite close to each other in ↳Delhi so it's possible to fit a lot in. It just depends on your tolerance levels. Day
    ↳3: An early morning start to see the Taj Mahal. Arrived just after 6am, already crowds ↳waiting. C/card machine wasn't working so make sure you have cash in case. Separate ↳lines for men and women to buy tickets. Also no backpacks. Early morning shots with ↳the hazy background and sun filtering through makes for stunning photos! We spent ↳almost 3hrs here, couldn't tear ourselves away. Then it was on to the Agra Fort and ↳MORE amazing things to see and photograph. If you love symmetry, lines, pillars, ↳detailed motifs, colour then India is for you! We drove through to Jaipur at about ↳lunch time stopping at the Chand Biori stepwells en route. Before arriving at our ↳hotel we went to the Monkey temple. It's very dirty compared to the other temples we ↳visited but still very interesting. We arrived quite close to closing time and I would ↳have preferred to have got there earlier or with a guide as it was pretty empty and we ↳felt slightly unsafe. Day 4: Got to Amber Fort just after 8:30, and it was already ↳hectic! We didn't do the elephant ride but managed to get some great shots of them.
    ↳This fort is just amazing and we ended up spending almost 3hrs here too.",

↳spot, $11 for vegetarian. I feel like a lot of places are $15-$16 so this is a great_ ↳bang for your buck option. Be aware they don't give rice so if you want some you'll_ ↳have to order it separately. Ordered garlic naan, yellow lentil curry and mixed_ ↳vegetable curry. All really good with strong flavors. I should've asked for spicier._
